

Plattform-Update:

Upcoming Live Classes in May

TwentyOne Skills

Dear reader,

for May we have a wide mix from Working in Diverse Teams to AI in Academia with a bunch of outside experts. There's also a couple of new e-learnings coming out (see page 2!).

Best regards, Robert
(Head of Learning, TwentyOne Skills)

Live classes: Schedule for May 07.05

Passion

In this session, we will explore the sacrifices inherent in the pursuit of passion, dissect the multifaceted elements of passion and burnout, and learn about practical strategies to pursue our passion more sustainably.

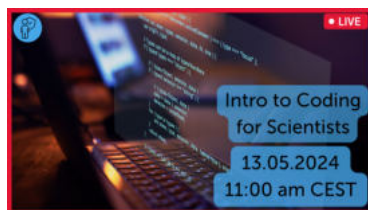

10.05

Working in Diverse Teams

Use this live session to exchange and learn about cultural intelligence, how to understand and navigate the landscape of diverse academia. Join and accelerate your skills in diversity and inclusion.

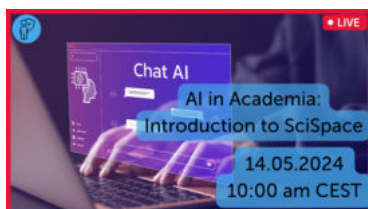

13.05

Intro to Coding for Scientists

We will provide a gentle introduction into coding in HTML, CSS, JavaScript and Python for non-developers. For each language, we'll talk about its origins, see an example code, and talk about its relevance for researchers.

14.05

AI in Academia: Introduction to SciSpace

In the sea of available AI tools for academics, I would to introduce you to a personal favourite: SciSpace.

Here you learn more about its functions, and how you can use it to facilitate your research.

23.05

Storytelling for Scientists

Storytelling is about sharing narratives that engage an audience, and yes, you can do that in science too! We'll discuss about developing characters, creating a plot, pacing and atmosphere.

24.05

Future Skills for a Sustainable Career

What does the research say about future skills? And how to acquire them? Join us to embrace complexity awareness and systems thinking with an absolute expert.

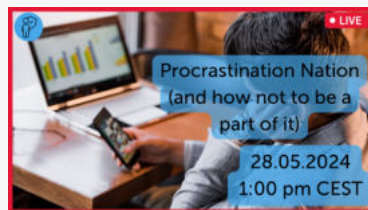

27.05

Network in your Poster Session

Let's dive into the world of networking with scientific posters! You read that right – posters! The poster session is one of the most underrated opportunities to make amazing connections at conferences.

28.05

Procrastination Nation (and how not to be a part of it)

This bad habit of procrastination is difficult to kick, but there are little tips and tricks to help you meet those deadlines without leaving everything until the last moment.

Upcoming E-Learnings:

to be released in May: "How to Write a Cover Letter Using ChatGPT", "How to Have Difficult Conversations", and "How to Expand Your LinkedIn Network".

NEW

